The diagram illustrates the integration of BIPV into building components. It features a central label 'BIPV' with arrows pointing to various parts of a building facade. The components are labeled with values: '2,000' for the roof, '10%' for the walls, '90%' for the windows, and '18,000' for the total area. A '20,000' label is also present at the top right. The diagram is enclosed in a rectangular frame with a dashed line on the right side.
